Up to six emergency runners may be declared for The Everest.

The Sydney Stakes $2,000,000 WFA 1200m (Group 3) will be conducted on Saturday 14th October 2023 and also act as a consolation race for The Everest. Any emergencies declared for The Everest must have accepted for the Sydney Stakes. From that race, a list of reserves will be selected and declared as emergencies for The Everest (see point 7.11).

The horses to be declared as emergencies for The Everest will be chosen by the Everest Committee (Racing NSW and the Australian Turf Club).

The declaration of emergencies for The Everest will be a list only and not necessarily an order of entry in the event of a scratching. The slot licensee is permitted to select any one of the remaining available declared emergency horses at its discretion.

In the event of a scratching from The Everest with a veterinary certificate, elevation of an emergency into the field will be upon selection by the slot licensee that declared the scratched horse.
